The ANTIQUE ECO EXPOSED AGGREGATE MIX is our own exclusive product that we manufacture and supply and install ourselves.

We are the only ones in Western Australia to the best of my knowledge that do provide this form of exposed aggregate product.

The ANTIQUE ECO was first introduced into the marketplace by our father's in the early 1970s and over the years we have refined it to be the product that is today.

Contrary to what some of our competitors are saying our product actually is a premixed product that contains both combination of black quartz stones and multi coloured decorative stones within the mix.

All ANTIQUE ECO BLENDS contain Black quartz Stones in them.

The Black quartz stones are between 7 to 10 mm in size and the multi coloured decorative stones are 5 to 7mm.

These two combinations are actually the smallest aggregate decorative stones that you can purchase or use in a exposed aggregate product

As you would be aware whenever you supply a premixed product you cannot actually tell the composition of the product until you have stripped away the first layer of concrete.

To avoid having this problem where you may have parts of the overall finish which do not have enough decorative stones on them because they may have fallen to the bottom during the premix's installation phase we incorporate a old method of seeding an additional layer off 5-7mm decorative stones over the top of the premix when laid in order to ensure that there is an even conformity and an even continuity of finish.

By Incorporating this method and using the same decorative multi-coloured Stones that are used in the premix we ensure that we have an even and consistent blend,

Once we are happy with the consistency of the multi coloured stone blend that we have seeded over the top of the premix we then sink these stones into the premix to form the final product.

It's a complicated process, but it's one that we have developed over the last 30-years.

This method ensures that we have total control over the consistency of the blend from the time it is poured out of the truck to the time that it is laid and ready to be finished and the final product exposed.

To date our ANTIQUE ECO RANGE has been our most successful decorative concrete product that we produce and supply and has been widely embraced by both the general public from individual home owners and residential builders to long established Property Developers and Perth Architects.

Our ANTIQUE PREMIUM BLEND is a total premix in which different stone and colour compositions are combined to form the final product.

With our Premium Blends we can in some cases totally extract the black quartz component and substitute them for an abundance of multicoloured stones.

In other instances we can insert various colour blends with different decorative stone size compositions to create a uniquely specific appearance.

After some years of testing, research and development we composed a catalogue of Premium Blend samples that we now display on our webpage and which we were proud to offer to the market place.

That is essentially a brief explanation to our Decorative Concrete Products.

If you require any additional information please feel free to contact me at any time, I'm more than happy to assist.

Regards

Steven
